

A destitute family will receive a new home in your honor.

In the Caribbean and Latin America, the poorest of the poor often live in shacks made of scraps of metal, plastic or even cardboard. Dirt floors turn into mud when it rains, and children living in such conditions fight a constant battle against disease, vermin and rodents. A gift has been given to Food For The Poor in your honor to provide a family with a safe, new home.