Bob Crescent Basic School Before & After

Because of the overwhelming poverty permeating Jamaican society, many parents cannot afford to send their children to school.

Food For The Poor is committed to building schools and replacing old, run-down buildings and huts.

Little Angels Basic School Before & After

We assist schools where the instructors are dedicated to teaching disadvantaged children basic life skills and fundamental education.
There are approximately 40 students per school.

Providing a Better Facility and a Healthy Environment for Learning

A small kitchen is constructed to ensure that the students have at least one hot meal per day. Sanitation facilities keep students and teachers healthy.

Fast Facts

Now celebrating its 28th year of operation, Food For The Poor (FFP) is an interdenominational Christian relief and development organization working primarily in 17 countries in the Caribbean and Latin America, and also in the United States, to assist the poorest of the poor. By working together with pastors, missionaries and churches in these regions, we ensure that aid reaches those who need it most.

Food For The Poor does much more than feed millions of hungry individuals. We drill life-giving water wells for those who otherwise wouldn't have clean drinking water; we provide lifesaving medical care; we build homes for families without adequate shelter; we provide skills training and micro-enterprise opportunities that enable the poor to work; and we give children an education that will enable them to break free from the cycle of poverty that has ensnared generations.

Since our founding in 1982, Food For The Poor has distributed approximately 52,000 containers of aid to the poor. We have also built more than 61,200 housing units for people desperately in need of adequate shelter, and completed more than 1,000 water projects that provide lifesaving water and sanitation to hundreds of thousands of villagers in need.

Fundraising and other administrative costs comprise less than 4% of our expenses; more than 96% of all donations go directly to programs that help the poor.

In a survey of the 200 largest U.S. charities, Forbes magazine has given Food For The Poor outstanding ratings of 98% in charitable commitment and 98% in fundraising efficiency. December 2009

In the latest available ratings, Food For The Poor received the highest possible awards – four stars, from Charity Navigator and five stars from Ministry Watch.

For the second consecutive year, The Chronicle of Philanthropy has ranked Food For The Poor as the largest international relief organization in the U.S., and the fourth-largest overall charity in the nation. (Rankings based on private support.) October 2009

Better Business Bureau reports that Food For The Poor meets the extensive standards of America's most experienced charity evaluator. June 2008
