Dilcia

Six-year-old Dilcia gets sick with fever and other illnesses because she doesn’t receive the nutrition she needs. Drought conditions in Honduras have made jobs scarce for her father, who is a farmer, so her parents can’t afford to provide the proper nourishment or medical attention she needs.

Although her mother, Carmela, desperately wants to end her child’s suffering, sometimes, there is no food. “Some days we eat, some days we don’t,” Carmela said, crying.

Your gifts through Food For The Poor will give little ones like Dilcia the food, medicine and other essentials they need to grow and thrive.
