Luvia, 4, lives in Guatemala where disease-carrying mosquitoes are likely a big reason this precious girl has been sick a number of times with dengue fever.

She suffered a 15-day bout of the severe illness that had her family wondering if she would survive. But because her mother barely makes enough to feed Luvia and her siblings, there isn’t enough money for much else, including medicine.

Your gifts through Food For The Poor give food, medicine and other much-needed necessities to precious children like Luvia.
